Anti-Bribery and Gifts Policy

Document owner: Legal & Compliance (legal@acme.test). Approved by: Priya Raman, CEO. Effective date: 2026-03-02. This policy expands sections 3 and 4 of the Code of Conduct.

1. The rule

Acme never offers, gives, asks for or accepts a bribe, a kickback or any improper advantage, directly or through a distributor, agent or other third party. This applies in every country, whatever local practice is. Facilitation payments (small payments to speed up a routine official action, such as customs clearance) are forbidden too.

2. Gifts and hospitality you receive

These are the same limits as the Code of Conduct:

Situation	What to do
A gift from a supplier worth up to 50 euros	You may accept it if it is occasional and not linked to a pending decision
A gift from a supplier above 50 euros	Declare it to Finance (Hannah Schmidt's team) in the gift register before or immediately after accepting
Cash, vouchers or gift cards	Never accept, whatever the value
Hospitality during an active tender or negotiation	Decline, and inform your manager

3. Gifts and hospitality you give

Situation	Limit without approval
Business gifts to a customer or partner contact	Acme-branded items worth up to 50 euros per person per year
Meals and hospitality for a customer or partner contact	Up to 150 euros per person per event, at most 2 events per person per year
Anything above these limits	Pre-approval by the CFO (Hannah Schmidt)
Anything for a public official	Written pre-approval by Legal & Compliance, whatever the value

Public officials include employees of government bodies and of state-owned companies, such as port authorities and public logistics operators. Never give anything to anyone involved in a tender we take part in while it runs.

All gifts and hospitality given above 50 euros are recorded in the gift register in ExpenseHub with the recipient, value and business reason.

4. Distributors and agents

Before contracting a distributor or sales agent, Sales completes third-party due diligence (ownership, sanctions screening, references). Commissions above 10 percent of the sale need approval from both the CFO and the CEO. Payments go only to a bank account in the agent's own name, in the country where it works.

5. Training

Everyone in Sales, Operations and Finance completes the anti-bribery e-learning every year, by 31 March.

6. Reporting

Report concerns to ethics@acme.test or anonymously through the Speak Up form. Acme forbids retaliation against anyone who reports in good faith.
